

Summer 2018

COBA

July 8-Aug 1

Leipzig, Germany

The City: During the days of the former East Germany, Leipzig was the second largest city in the East, after Berlin. As the home of Bach, Leipzig has for years been known worldwide as a city of music. Leipzig also played a foundational role in the formation of German 18th century philosophy, known as the Age of Enlightenment. As you study German language and culture, you will have the opportunity to grapple with the ideas of famous philosophers, scholars, and artists in their historic location.

Don Pope has taught in COBA for 16 years, teaching subjects such as statistics, management science, operations management, quality management, logistics & supply chain management, project management, and enterprise resource planning (SAP). He has also taught several courses overseas. Don's other international travel/mission experience includes 5 different trips to Honduras, Peru, and Zambia.

Dennis Marquardt is an Assistant Professor of Management in COBA and has taught a wide variety of Management courses including MGMT 330 Principles of Management, MGMT 335 Leadership in Organizations, and MGMT 449 Strategic Management. Dennis actively researches topics related to cross-cultural human resources and intercultural organizational effectiveness and has a passion for helping students understand cultural differences and grow in cultural intelligence. Dennis has a minor in German from Lipscomb University and four years of corporate banking experience working for Deutsche Bank where he worked with colleagues throughout Europe.
