

Commonly Prescribed Medications

Effective January 1, 2004

12246
15298-113

This list is subject to change prior to January 1, 2004.

The drugs on this list are available to you at a lower cost as part of your prescription benefit program. This list represents some of the most commonly prescribed drugs and serves as a guide for getting excellent values at your pharmacy.

How to Use this List

Share this list with your doctor. Ask your doctor to prescribe drugs with generic versions available whenever possible. You generally will pay the lowest copayment when using generics. If a generic isn't available, ask your doctor to consider prescribing a brand-name drug from this list. These brand-name drugs are available at a lower copayment and can provide cost-savings to you and your plan. Choosing brand-name drugs not on this list can result in a higher copayment.

Please Note: This is not a complete list of formulary drugs. Your benefit coverage may not be limited to this list or the select therapeutic categories shown. In some cases, your plan may have certain coverage limits. Refer to your benefit materials, visit www.AdvanceRx.com or call your prescription benefit member services number for specific coverage information. This list is subject to change.
